Teacher Fatally Burned

Miss Mertie May, a teacher in a school north of Maywood, died Wednesday morning from burns received Monday when she built a fire in the school house stove. The fire burned slowly, and to hurry it along poured coal oil from the can. The oil in the can exploded, throwing the burning fluid upon her and setting fire to her clothing. She attempted to extinguish the flames, but was powerless, and started to run for the nearest house. The draft created by her movement only served to increase the flames and she finally dropped in the road, where she was later found by a passer-by. She was conveyed to a house and a physician summoned who gave the relief he could, but the burns were so deep that death came early Wednesday morning.

SPLENDID INVESTMENT.

We are offering 66x132 at corner of Sixth and Locust for quick sale at a price that will surely double in value within the next five years. In the meantime the income from the property will pay a fair rate of interest on the investment. We predict that there will be more new business buildings built on Locust street the next five years than in all the rest of the city.

Have a convenient place for housing your car and making the small repairs.

One of the first requirements of a complete garage is the work bench—you need a place for the tools and accessories. This bench may be built along the side or in the rear, according to choice. Of course, you'll arrange for the windows. Good lighting is first-aid to handy repair work.

A concrete floor provides good drainage and you can wash the automobile in all kinds of weather.

Build a garage now. It's a year 'round necessity.
